Author Bio:

Don Redden Ph.D. is a Vietnam veteran and a retired agent for the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Prior to his career with the FBI, Don served with the Kentucky National Guard and U.S. Army during the Vietnam War, and was a recipient of the Bronze Star for meritorious service in a combat zone. While working for the FBI, Don played a critical role in the apprehension of many of Kentucky's most wanted criminals. His outstanding leadership and capable investigative efforts were recognized by many including then FBI Director, John Edgar Hoover.

EVIL DESIRE

RECOLLECTIONS OF A SEX CRIMES DETECTIVE

CAPTAIN DEAN T. OLSON

(RETIRED)

Sexual predators exist in our society and their evil desire leads them to commit heinous, brutal crimes with little concern for their victims or the toll it takes on the community. Violent sociopaths have no interest in the needs or safety of anyone else and see ordinary people as either targets or competitors. They have no hesitation taking what they want from their victims. Whether they are rapists, pedophiles, or murderers, these monsters will do whatever it takes to get their needs met and their evil desires satisfied.

Captain Dean T. Olson (retired) is a veteran sex crimes detective with the Douglas County (Nebraska) Sheriff's Office, serving the Omaha area. In his 30-year law enforcement career he has seen some of the most horrible crimes committed by one person against another and he has arrested some of the worst sexual predators the nation has ever seen.
